Vocational Education and Training (VET)

A skilled labor force is a prerequisite for economic development. Our VET programs respond to increasing labor market demand and are designed to improve the skills and competencies of participants so that they become qualified employees and productive members of society. The internationally recognized German dual vocational training system has an excellent reputation as an effective tool for increasing youth employment and for strengthening economic performance.

Gain a competitive advantage and improve the technical knowledge of your skilled workforce through our professional training programs. We have more than 40 years of experience in providing training programs according to the „dual system“ and in TVET consulting worldwide. Using our extensive network of vocational training centers and leading institutes, we offer tailor-made programs and practical, on-site training in Germany.

In our intensive training programs, participants acquire technical knowledge, expertise and practical skills according to international standards and receive certificates issued by German chambers of skilled trades and crafts.
